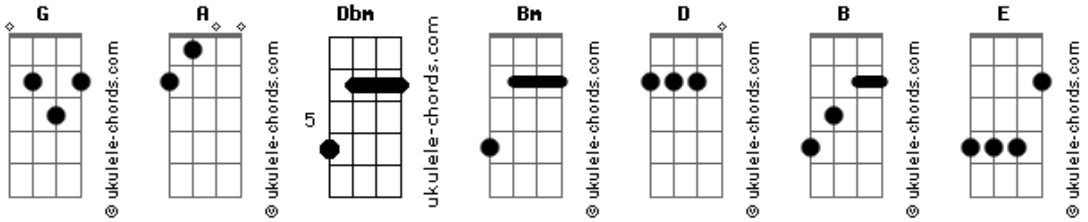
Harlem - Someday Soon

```
                                                                  I promise not to do it again!
                                tom:                              A                    Dbm
                G                                                 Oh please put me out!
                                                                    Bm                     Dbm
            A                                                     I promise not to do it again!
There is no strumming pattern for this song yet create and get
A                               Dbm                               D                           A
Someday soon you'll be on fire                                    Dirty lies to get like to me
Bm                                  Dbm                           D                                           A
And you'll ask me for a glass of water                            And even he can't tell that's a suitcase between your knees
A            Dbm   Bm                             Dbm             B
And I say, No,         you can just let that shit burn            Oh, I believe that somebody had to leave,d to you
            A                                     Dbm
And you'll say, Please, please, please put me out                 E
          Bm                                Dbm                   But God almighty it couldn't be me!
    A                                   Dbm
Oh please, please, please put me out                                                A              Dbm
          Bm                                Dbm                   And you'll say, please put me out!
I promise not to do it again whatever I did to you                Bm                       Dbm
                                                                  I promise not to do it again!
A                     Dbm                                           A              Dbm
Oh please put me out!                                             Oh please put me out!
   Bm                   Dbm                                       Bm                     Dbm
                                                                  I promise not to do it again
```

Acordes



Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br