

2AM Club - Worry About You

Tom: Bb
Intro: Gm
For as long, long as I can remember
Its been December, no sun no summertime to treasure
We weren't grown
And every time that they told us surrender
It will be better
We'd just go holding on till forever
To what we know
Refrão:
Broken lover yes I made you
Believe that I would be the one to heal you
And if you go now out that doorway
I won't say you're wrong
But you know that I'll worry about you
Verso 2:
                         Gm
For as long long as she can remember
She wanted better
                          Gm
No home no one there to protect her, all alone
And so she told me I was her center
Nothing would tempt her
I still roamed
Just like her father left her, ooh he left her
Refrão:
Broken lover yes I made you
Believe that I would be the one to heal you
```

Bb F And if you go now out that doorway Cm I won't say you're wrong Eb Gm But you know that I'll worry about you
Rap: Gm Isn't it bad you've been a good victim
F You thought I was worth it you act like I would listen
And maybe you were right at one point someday
I used to watch you treat the streets like a runway Gm
I used to write with tears on your pretty painted face F
Sign language on your back from the first taste
So when he whispers in your ear and you think of me
You wish I would've treated you like you treated me Gm When you wake up from your dreams to the hallway
F Sleepwalking through the streets dressed in all gray Cm
Blinking streetlamps in the window pane Bb
I worried from the second that I learned your name
<pre>Gm</pre>
But where was I last night
And why don't you feel right
Refrão: Bb F Broken lover yes I made you
Cm Eb Believe that I would be the one to heal you
Bb F And if you go now out that doorway
Cm I won't say you're wrong
Eb But you know that I'll worry about you
