4 Non Blondes - Drifting

```
Tom: G

(intro) G    D  Em        D         C          C  C          C

Em              D      G         D
   What a wonderful hesitation
Em              D         C D
   who would bear to feel sorry for me
Em                   D               G         D
   dropped another pill just to calm me
Em                    D          C            C  C
   collapsed to my knees and fell fast into sleep
                      C
   There I was drifting
   G  Am     C      G
   way out into the sunshine
                   Am           C          G
   expecting to crash but I'm tied to a string
            Am     C       G
   Look at me I'm a tangled puppet
                 Am      C         G  D    E
   I might be a mess but I sure can survive
Em              D             G        D
   find myself awake counting sad days
Em    D         C D
   1-2-3 that's too many for me
Em                 D              G     D
   dropped another pill just to find me Em                  D reached for my hand
                 C         C   C
   but it was already there
                      C
   then I started believin' G  Am           C        G
   that I fell out of a tiny raindrop
               Am            C          G
   that  lost it's way when it decided  to roam
              Am      C    G
   chasing me was a hungry dweller
```
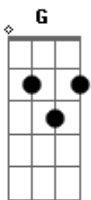

```
                        Am          C          G
   but I had escaped it by pretending to die
    C   C  C
   Come follow me you won't expect the illusion
                             G         D  Em
   you'll see, it's my immagination
    C    C       C
   hand me your eyes
   I will put them in front of mine
                            G
   You'll see a little better
   You'll see a little better

Bridge:
G  D   Em          D      G
G  D   Em          D   C          C    C     C

Em                  D        G          D
   What a wonderful destination
Em               D      C  D
   where I'm now I can no longer see Em                   D             G         D
   dropped another pill just to kill me
Em                    D          C       C     C
   collapsed to my knees and fell fast into sleep
                      C
   there I was drifting
G  Am     C      G
way out into the sunshine
                   Am           C          G
   expecting to crash but I'm tied to a string
            Am     C       G
Look at me I'm a tangled puppet
                 Am      C         G
   I might be a mess but I sure can survive
              Am           C          G
But i had escaped it by pretending to die.
