A Flock of Seagulls - I Ran

Tom: C

Transcription by jonathan bravo

You need a chorus, some distortion and a Delay with the delay time set to 350 milliseconds and a lot of echo (at least for the first part).
Does anybody else consider this song a classic of the 80's or is it just me?

Scratch the 4th and 5th strings to make the Seagull effect.
    (use the delay! - play the chord and mute it almost immediately)

(this ones let ring)

        I walked along the avenue...
            (try to mute this ones)

Now for the chorus: (just follow the voice)

   And I   r a a n I ran so far away...

(it's the same thing for "I just ran, I ran all night and day")

Listen to the song to know what parts to repeat (after the chorus comes the intro again, with the space-age delay and then the verse again).

Here comes the solo:

Play this very fast, muting at first and gradually letting go of the string so that at the end it's ringing.

When the voice comes again, play the intro chords and also scratch the strings for the seagull effect again. Then play the normal verse figure and the chorus, and after the chorus comes the finale:

Play this a couple of times

Then this

And then this, with the last chord played like the intro.

That's it. Enjoy!
