

A-Ha - Locust

```
Bm E B Gbm
Intro: Gb D Db Gbm D Db Gbm Bm E Gbm E
Bm Bm7 E Gbm E Bm7 E Gbm A Bm7 E Gbm B
                                                  I don't know, break it down
                                                  What are we wanna do
Bm7 E Gbm
                                                      Bm7 E
Don't be afraid
                                                  I don't know, make it
   E Bm7
                                                    B Gbm E
                                                  I don't know, shake it
It's a harmless moon
 E Gbm
                                                    Bm E
                                                  I don't know, break it down
All we can do
 E Bm7
Is to assume
                                                  ( Bm Gb7 Bm7 E Gbm B E Gbm E B7 E E Gb E B )
 F Gbm
                                                           E Gbm7
Our lives must change
 E Bm7
                                                  My dream was this
A change is due
                                                   E B7
 E Gbm
                                                  Across the sky
I hear you say
 A B
                                                  A slate-grey cloud
                                                             Gbm E Bm
What are we gonna do
 Bm7 E
                                                  That filled the eye
I don't know, make it
                                                                 Gb E B
                                                         E
 B Gbm E
                                                  A slate-grey cloud
I don't know, shake it
B D E Gbm
                                                  Comes through the dust
I don't know, break it down
                                                  Gb7
                                                  Locust
What are we wanna do
 Bm E
                                                  ( D Gbm Db Gbm D Db Gbm Bm7 E Gbm E7 Bm7 E Gbm E
I don't know, make it
 B Gbm E
I don't know, shake it

Bm E B Gbm A7M
                                                   Bm7
                                                              Ε
                                                  I don't know, make it
I don't know, break it down
                                                   B Gbm E
Bm E Gbm
O'weeping night
E Bm7
                                                  I don't know, shake it
                                                   Bm E Gbm
                                                  I don't know, break it down
0' grieving sky
E Gbm
                                                  What are we wanna do
O' rabbit wind
  E Bm
You just flew by
                                                  I don't know, make it
 E Gbm
                                                  Gbm E
                                                  I don't know, shake it
Grant me this
                                                  Bm E Gbm E Bm I don't know, break it down
 E Bm7
Some small reward
E Gbm
                                                   E Gbm
                                                  Dont' be afraid E A Bm E Gbm E Bm
Don't announce
The time of the final call
                                                  It's a harmless moon
 Bm E
                                                   E Gbm
I don't know, make it
                                                  Dont' be afraid
                                                  B Gbm E
I don't know, shake it
                                                  It's a harmless moon
```

Acordes

