

Abbey Glover - The Final Goodbye

Tom: Bb
                                                                Oh, when we didn't need to sleep
        Bb
Hey, this is the last message I'll leave on Because life was such, life was such a your phone dream
Promise afterwards I'll leave you alone
                                                                Oh, for you I'd have done anything
I'll leave you alone
                                                                Oh, anything at all
                                                                But I guess it's time to say goodbye
I heard you moved on, you found someone new
                                                    Cm
                                                                Goodbye once and for all
Wish I could be happier, but I'm not happy
                                                                Goodbye once and for all
I'm not happy for you
                                                                                                          Gm
                                                                But I don't want to say goodbye at all
       Cm
Do you ever think of me?
Oh, when we didn't need to sleep
                                                                There's a constant pain in my chest
Because life was such, life was such a
                                                                Remembering the days
                                                                Remembering the way you used
                                                                                                       Eb
Oh, for you I'd have done anything
                                                                The way you used to kiss me
Oh, anything at all
                                                                There's a constant pain in my chest
                                         Bb
But I guess it's time to say goodbye
                                                                Remembering the days
                                                                                                   Cm
Goodbye once and for all
                                                                Remembering the way you used
Goodbye once and for all
                                         Gm
                                                                The way you used to kiss me when you loved me
But I don't want to say goodbye at all
                                                                Do you ever think of me?
You know I'd do it all over again
I know you wouldn't 'cause it wouldn't be the same
                                                                Because life was such, life was such a
I know you said the love died off and there's no one to
blame
But, I can't help thinking of what we could've been
                                                                                                          Bb
If only you'd all stayed
                                                                Goodbye once and for all
                                                                Goodbye once and for all
                                                                                                          Gm
       Cm
Do you ever think of me?
