Easy song, rather boring, I only did it because it was a request.

Good lyrics though.

The picking part that's used throughout the song goes like this:

F G C C7M

This picking pattern is used in a lot of places in the song, you'll hear it. The chords through most of the song are 'F G C C7M', you can always use this picking stuff on those chords. Then he strums

'Am C' at the beginning of the choruses, that's the whole song. I just strum all the chords, it sounds good to me.

Intro: [play with picking pattern above]
