

Tom: G

Aerosmith - Luv Lies

```
Ε
                                                                'Coz first you loose your heart's desire
         Gbm
Oh when you cross that line that you know you can't erase
                                                               Then you get it back
       Gbm
                    Ε
To find lust not love ain't no sin at all
              Gbm
                                                                But ignorance ain't bliss
And tell me when you are with your best friend friend's do you still fell outta place
                                                                There's so much more behind the kiss
No thanks, I took that ride
                                                                I'm feeling
God only knows I've tried believin'
                                                                Refrão
                                                                When loneliness and paranoia feeds me
: C
:I imagine everyone sometimes
                                                                                 D
                                                               God help the person who needs me
:Will cross their hearts and hope to die
                                                                A E Gbm
:To tell I luv you lies
                                                                Solo
           Em
: C
:I imagine everyone survives
                                                                If ignorance is bliss
:For givin' up all that you got
                                                                Then take me off the list
:To tell I luv you lies
                                                                I'm leaving
         Gbm
The first time you look for love
                                                                Refrão
You've found you don't know jack
                                                                C Am G
          Ghm
So much for mind games
                                                                (Sons mto legais que o Steven faz)
  Ε
```

You play to win

Acordes

