

American Authors - Oh What a Life

Tom: G

Intro:

G C G Em D G

There was snow, There was snow
Stretched for miles and more
Where we buried, where we buried our souls

Oh I long, Oh I long
For them days left and gone
Where we sang and where we danced to a brighter song

But now I look upon a field with bodies stretched out and I feel nothing
But something's burning in my soul I let it lose control and I'm in, Oh God I've sinned

But I tried so hard, and we tried so hard
And it's a long long road, that you told me so
Yeah I tried so hard, to forget where we are
And all we do is laugh and we sing

Refrão

Ohh ohh ohhhhh
And we laughed oh, and we cried and thought oh, what a life
Ohh ohh ohhhhh

Ohh ohh ohhhhh
And we laughed oh, and we cried and thought oh, what a life
And we laughed, and we cried and thought oh, what a life

But I tried so hard, but we killed our hearts
In valleys low, I hear the trumpets blow
Yeah, I tried so hard, yet I'm lost and scarred
And I'm filled with regret yet I sing

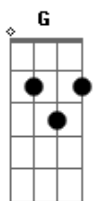

Ohh ohh ohhhhh
And we laughed oh, and we cried and thought oh, what a life.
Ohh ohh ohhhhh
And we laughed oh, and we cried and thought oh, what a life.
And we laughed, and we cried and thought oh, what a life.

Ohh ohh ohhhhh
Ohh ohh ohhhhh

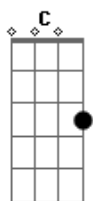

And we laughed oh, and we cried and thought oh, what a life.
Ohh ohh ohhhhh
And we laughed oh, and we cried and thought oh, what a life.
And we laughed, and we cried and thought oh, what a life.
