

Ana Vilela - Bullet Train

Tom: A

It's not about having all the people in the world for you
It's about knowing that somewhere
Someone watches over you
It's about singing and being able to listen
More than the voice itself
It's about dancing in the rain of life
That falls on us

It is to know if you feel infinite
In such a vast and beautiful universe
To know how to dream
And then make it worth every verse
From that poem about believing

It's not about getting on top of the world
Know that you have won
It's about climbing and feeling
That the way strengthened you
It's about being shelter
And also to live in other hearts
And so having friends with you
In all situations

We can not have it all

A

What would be the grace of the world if it were so

That's why I prefer smiles

And the gifts that life brought

Close to me

It's not about all your money

Can buy

And yes about every moment

Smile to share

It's also not about running

Against the time to always have more

Because when you least expect it

Life is behind us

Hold your son on his lap

Smile and hug your parents

While here

That life is bullet train partner

And we're just passing on

Laia laia laia laia
Laia laia laia laia

Hold your son on his lap

Smile and hug your parents

While here

And we're just passing on bullet train
