|                              |   |      | With a bounty of loot       |
|                              |   |      | D7                          |
|                              |   |      | Whoopie ti-yi-yo            |
|                              | G | C    | G                           |
| There once was a man         |   |      | Oh happy Magellan           |
| D                            | G |      | D7                          |
| His name was Magellan        |   |      | Starting your journey       |
| G                            | C |      | G                           |
| A Portuguese skipper         |   |      | With hardly a care          |
| D                            | G |      | G                           |
| The girls found him handsome |   |      | Whoopie ti-yi-yo            |
| G                            | C |      | D                           |
| He sailed with five ships    |   |      | Strong, brave Magellan      |
| D                            | G |      | G C                         |
| To find the East Indies      |   |      | You'll find the East Indies |
| G                            | C |      | D                           |
| Then come back to Spain      |   |      | You just don't know where   |
