

Anthony Lázaro - Small Rainbows

tom:
Staring out the window
On a cloudy morning
Trying to lick our wounds
While the tea is warming
Sometimes it's like our boat
Has never shipped out
Sometimes we go around
On a never-ending route
This week has been a mess, but I'm gonna tell you
We'll rebuild our world gonna make it brand new We're gonna plot our way for a comeback
We only need some time and I promise you that
And I promise you that
And I promise you that
I know this can take a while
               But it's gonna be alright girl
                And if it won't be today
                I'm the shoulder you can cry on % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right)
So cry if you wanna cry

Small rainbows
Will fill your eyes
Yeah, cry if you wanna cry
Know time will be on your side
Maybe we're two drops lost in the ocean
Drifters following the streams in motion
Riders of the night with no destination
Don't even know the name of our future station
We're lost romantics in a world that's frozen
We're gonna be the heroes of our novel
We just need some time
I know this can take a while
  But it's gonna be alright girl
  And if it won't be today
 I'm the shoulder you can cry on
So cry if you wanna cry
Small rainbows
Will fill your eyes
Yeah, cry if you wanna cry
       Dm
'Cause time will be on your side
