

Ariana Grande - Hampstead

tom:
Intro: C E Am F C

C E Am
I left my heart at a pub in Hampstead
Dm G
And I misplaced my mind in a good way
C F C
Threw away my reputation, but saved us more heartache
C
Yes, I know it seems fucked up, and you're right

C E Am
But quite frankly, you're still wrong about everything
Dm G
So far off, your seat's nowhere near the table
C Am
But I find something sweet in your peculiar behavior
F
'Cause I think to be so dumb must be nice
C
I do, I do, I do, I do

Am D G
What makes you think you're even invited?
E Am D F
The doors are closed with lights off inside and all the while
C F G Fm
There's no one home, you're still outside
F
I wonder why

C D F
What's wrong with a little bit of poison? Tell me
C F G
I would rather feel everything than nothing every time
C
Uh-uh, fear me, stranger
D
A little bit of sugar, danger
F G
I'd rather be seen and alive than dying by your point of view
C

I do, I do, I do, I do

C E Am
I don't remember too much of the last year
Dm G
But I knew who I was when I got here
C F
'Cause I'm still the same, but only entirely different
Am
And my lover's just some lines in some songs
G
(Mhm, mhm, mhm, mhm)

Am D G
You think you've read the book I'm still writing
E Am D F
I can't imagine wanting so badly to be right
C F G Fm
Guess I'm forever on your mind
F
I wonder why

C D
What's wrong with a little bit of poison?
F
Tell me (tell me)
C F
I would rather feel everything than
G
Nothing every time (every time, every time)
C
Uh-uh, fear me, stranger (stranger)

D
A little bit of sugar (sugar), danger (danger)
F G
I'd rather be seen and alive than dying by your point of view
(point of view)

F G C
Rather be swimming with you than drowning in a crowded room
C
I do, I do, I do, I do
