

Ariana Grande - Needy

```
Tom: Bb
                                                                (Ooooh) I know it feels so good to be needed
 (forma dos acordes no tom de G )
                                                                Sorry if I'm up and down a lot (yeah)
Capostraste na 3º casa
Intro:
                                                                Sorry that I think I'm not enough
Gbm
If you take too long to hit me back
                                                                And sorry if I say sorry way too much
I can't promise you how I?ll react
                                                                You can go ahead and call me selfish (selfish)
But all I can say is at least I'll wait for you
                                                                But after all this damage, I can?t help it (help it)
Lately I've been on a roller coaster
                                                                Or what you can trust ?cause I need your touch
Tryna get a hold of my emotions
                                                                And I?ma scream and shout for what I love
But all that I know is I need you close
                                                                Passionate but I don't give no fucks
And I?ma scream and shout for what I love
                                                                I admit that I'm a lil' messed up
                      Fm
Passionate but I don't give no fucks
                                                                But I can hide it when I'm all dressed up
I admit that I'm a lil' messed up
                                                                I'm obsessive and I love too hard
But I can hide it when I'm all dressed up
                                                                Good at overthinking with my heart
                                                               How you even think it got this far, this far?
I'm obsessive and I love too hard
Good at overthinking with my heart
                                                                                    Gbm
                                                                And I can be needy (ooooh), way too damn needy (ooooh)
How you even think it got this far, this far?
                                                                I can be needy (ooooh), tell me how good it feels to be needed
                    Ghm
                                                                (Ooooh) I can be needy, (ooooh) so hard to please me
And I can be needy (ooooh), way too damn needy (ooooh)
I can be needy (ooooh), tell me how good it feels to be needed (Ooooh) I know it feels so good to be needed
                         Fm
(Ooooh) I can be needy, (ooooh) so hard to please me
                                                                [Final] Gbm Fm C
                                                                        Gbm Fm
```

Acordes

