

Art of Dying - Better

Tom: C

I'm still the same man that took your hand those years ago
Still feels like yesterday
There's so many things I should've let you know
So many things I need to say
I need to say

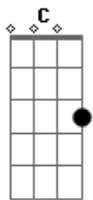

There's no way out alive
I'm running out of time
You may never get this letter
But if somehow I survive and make it out alive
I'm gonna love you so much better
I know I let my selfishness get in the way
I should've given my time to you
Why do we push the ones we love the most away?
Why do I do the things I do?
Why do I do what I do?

There's no way out alive
I'm running out of time
You may never get this letter
But if somehow I survive and make it out alive
I'm gonna love you so much better
Love you so much better

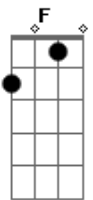

You wake up everyday and do it all again
One day it's the end
Buried in the flames, never to be found
My love, I let you down

There's no way out alive
I'm running out of time
You may never get this letter
But if somehow I survive and make it out alive
I'm gonna love you so much better
Love you so much better
Love you so much better
