Capostraste na 2ª casa
 [Verso]
                                                                 [Bridge]
A boy of anguish now, he's a man of soul,
                                                                   I can't believe I've come so far in such short time,
 Traded in his misery for the lonely life of the road.
                                                                   And I'm still fighting on my own.
 The years were cruel to him no, he won't let them go.
                                                                   If I try to catch my breath I may never breathe again, so Lays awake tryna' find the man inside to pack his bags and escape this world.
                                                                   I've never been so torn up in all of my life, I can't believe I let myself break down.

  I've never been so torn up in all of my life,
  I should have seen this coming.
                                                                    I've never been so torn up in all of my life,
                                                                                F
  I've never felt so hopeless, than I do tonight.
                                                                    I should have seen this coming.
 I don't wanna do this anymore, I'm moving on.
                                                                   I've never felt so hopeless, than I do tonight.

 He wanted to change the world, to \underline{\mbox{\scriptsize make}} it all worthwhile.

 So he put his pen to paper and poured out everything inside.
                                                                    I should have seen this coming.
