A dancing puppet l... Made of glass
I bet she'd run away one day
If he could choose to leave or stay
He's got a string attached to every bone
She's got him round her
Little finger so she'll never feel alone
Oh sometimes I wonder, did it go
When lots of men had caused his soul
Dreaming of a wonderland
Where he's a, he's a man

Oh, she's taking control over another mans mind
Oh taking control over another mans mind
Oh, taking control over another mans mind
Oh taking control over his mind
Not one day leaving her, has struck his mind
When he sees her smile he's Hypnotized and he can't leave her behind
Looking to his left, there's the door
No need to try, tried once before
And his bunds tied beneath the floor

Oh sometimes I wonder, did it go

When lots of men had caused his soul
Dreaming of a wonderland
Where he's a, he's a man
Oh, she's taking control over another mans mind
Oh taking control over another mans mind
Oh, taking control over another mans mind
Oh taking control over his mind

When they were out to buy her wedding-gown
She wanted nothing but the Dress over a hundred thousand pound
But what she wants, she gets, but she will cry
Hits the man with her umbrella
She'll continue till' he dies
Oh sometimes I wonder, did it go
When lots of men had caused his soul

Dreaming of a wonderland
Where he's a, he's a man
Oh, taking control over another mans mind
Taking control of his min
Oh, she's taking control over another mans mind
Oh taking control over another mans mind
Oh, taking control over another mans mind
Oh taking control over his mind
