

Aurora - The River

Tom: G

Hold your hands up to your chest

And tell me what you find

Out of you, a sparrow comes

And sees without its eyes

Don't forget who you are even though you are hurt

You are caught in a wire and soon it will burst

You can cry

Drinking your eyes

Do you miss the sadness when it's gone? (Gone)

And you let the river run wild (Gone)

And you let the river run wild

I'm a shadow, I am cold

And now I seek for warmth

Stitch your skin onto my skin

And we won't be alone

Don't forget who you are even though you're in need

Like a bird in the night, your emotions deserves to be freed

You can cry

Drinking your eyes

Do you miss the sadness when it's gone? (Gone)

And you let the river run wild (Gone)

And you let the river run wild

You can cry (You can cry)

Drinking your eyes

I don't miss the sadness when it's gone (Gone)

And the feeling of it makes me smile (Gone)

As I let the river run wild

You can cry, you can cry, you can cry

To where the ocean is bigger

Become a part of the river

You can cry, you can cry, you can cry

Can you let the river run wild?

You can cry

(You can cry, you can cry, you can cry)

Drinking your eyes

Do you miss the sadness when it's gone? (Gone)

(You can cry, you can cry, you can cry)

And you let the river run wild (Gone)

And you let the river run wild

You can cry

(You can cry, you can cry, you can cry)

Drinking your eyes

(To where the ocean is bigger)

I don't miss the sadness when it's gone (Gone)

And the feeling of it makes me smile (Gone)

As I let the river run wild

You can cry

Drinking your eyes

Do you miss the sadness when it's gone?

And you let the river run wild

And you let the river run wild
