

Avantasia - The Raven Child (feat. Hansi Kürsch)

```
Is it love that glows in fiery alignment?
                                                                                  Em
                                                                 Starry-eyed, maybe living a lie? A lonely heart in an endless
                                                  G2
Wild groves, sacred grounds fade to vastness
Am G Em
Mother Moon, cast your spell on these fields
Am G C F Am
                                                                         F Gm F
                                                                Oh raven child
                                                                Gm F Gm Eb Dm Raven child
Let the boughs paint ghostly shades on the trail
To a different world
                                                                 Bewildering and strange
Where the castle looks out to a valley

Am G Em F

Where I'm given all the love that I crave

Am G C F Am

Not afraid of the rising sun laying bare
                                                                 The scent of spring and cherry blossoms
                                                                 Sweet scent of rain
                                                                       Gm
                                                                 They're calling you astounding how it is my brittle soul
                                                                Not the same it used to be
Cold is the wind {\sf Am} {\sf G}
                                                                When you're compelled behind The crenel on your own
Bringing forth clarity
                                                                The tolling of the bell
Dm Em
Time rushing on
                                                                     Gm
                                                                 Is there anyone to tell me
  Am
And nothing will remain Dm Em F
                                                                What they wanna say?
There's no glory on the last journey
Am G C F Am G
HODOGOOO, hooooome
                                                                Gm F Eb
                                                                Voices go on and on and on to me
                                                                         Dm
Am G C F Am G
                                                                 But their tongues won't permeate
Hooooooo, hooooome
                                                                       Gm F Gm
                                                                Throughout my soul
\mathsf{Am} \quad \mathsf{G} \quad \mathsf{C} \quad \mathsf{F} \quad \mathsf{Am} \quad \mathsf{G}
Hooooooo, hooooome
Hooooooo, hooooome
                                                                 In your altered state of mind
                                                                         D Eb D Eb D
                                                                 In vain you're chasing light
( Gm F Gm Eb F )
( Gm F Gm Eb F )
                                                                 Your master in his frown
(Gm F Gm Eb Dm)
                                                                 Denial of the crown of creation
Looking down from this pure cup of heaven
                                                                 You're made to think you are
        F Gm
Onto an ocean of white that drowns
     Eb Dm
                                                                 A fire in the dark for the fool's gonna find his way
All the noise and decree
           Gm F Gm F
                                                                 Gonna run and never get away
And the craze in empty eyes
                                                                 Is it love that glows in fiery alignment?
Gm F Gm
Wide-eyed I'm lost in my imagination
Gm F Gm
                                                                A fire in the dark for the fool's gonna find his way
A dream of love, I've got to suffocate
                                                                 Gonna run and never get away
While I keep on waiting
                                                                Is it love that glows in fiery alignment?

Dm G Em F
  Dm
For the hour I'll be called to realize
                                                                Starry-eyed, maybe living a lie? A lonely heart in an endless
And see it all before my eyes
                                                                 [Solo] Bm Gbm G Em Gbm
                                                                       The sky is crawling down the mound
                         D Eb D Eb D
Into the deadwood on the ground, They say
Spectres flare and spit and rise
                                                                To mingle with the skies
                                                                Green fields as if the day was on the wane

Em D A Bm
And take all that's never meant to be
                                                                Grow faint and attain to perfection
                                                                 Em D
A fire in the dark for the fool's gonna find his way
                                                                What a backdrop for a diamond
                                                                              G
Gonna run and never get away
```

Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br

And so we sway in the wind like the willow  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{Bm}}$   $\ensuremath{\mathsf{A}}$   $\ensuremath{\mathsf{Gbm}}$   $\ensuremath{\mathsf{G}}$ Meant to give way to the order of the storm

Em D A Bm ( Am G ) Won't leave a mould in the marsh of the ages Em D C A tired chevalier of fortune You tuck away yourself inside C Blue and serene once a sky swanned on magic

Bm A Gbm G You ride away on the inmost light Am F C The unborn in the stream of destiny

Em D A Bm

Time flows to become a mound of nothing

Em D C Your soul glowing opal-blue
Am G A million voices fade away Am I never really got what they're trying to say  ${\color{red}\mathsf{Am}} \quad {\color{blue}\mathsf{F}} \qquad {\color{blue}\mathsf{C}} \qquad {\color{blue}\mathsf{G}}$ For a broken soldier of fortune For my words there's no getting through Em On my Oh, you sail to the night's plutonian shore  $\begin{tabular}{c} C \end{tabular}$ Comin' down, goin' all the way now, You won't get away You You drift to sleep, you can't take no more of this Finally the way you're shown You're goin' now Comin' down And like a raven child
Am You spread your paltry wings and throw C Em Yourself into the wind to escape from all below  $\begin{tabular}{c|c} F & C & G \end{tabular}$ Into the light In the light there's a crack torn open  $\ensuremath{\text{C}}$ That despised the raven child From underneath the day Em D In the light, but a crack, is it growing?  $\stackrel{\text{\sc C}}{\text{\sc C}}$ Or maybe the ugly in between  $\begin{tabular}{lll} Am & F & C \end{tabular}$ Feel the dark rolling in, your way Like me, a weak hermaphrodite
Am G C Feel the light look away it's gonna blind you  ${\color{red}\mathbf{C}}$ A broken soul in unimpaired parts  ${\sf F}$ Ignite your spirits fly See a light to uncloak their master  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{Bm}}$ That embraced the raven child To arouse the beaten mind A cloak of invisibility C G In the light there's a crack torn open  $\mbox{\bf F} \mbox{\bf G}$ To curtain the face of deformity  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{Am}}\xspace \ensuremath{\mathsf{F}}\xspace$ From underneath the day (You dream and fly)  ${\color{red}\mathsf{Am}}$ No, darkness let me in  $$\sf Am$$ In the light, but a crack, is it growing? Off to the night's plutonian shores
C F You dream and hope you won't wake no more to this F  $\,$  C  $\,$  G Feel the dark rolling in your way (Hey raven child) Flying raven child (Oh, fiery eyes) Feel the light look away it's gonna blind you  $\mathsf{F}$ Oh, fiery eyes (Flying raven child) Ignite your spirits fly Oh, to escape from all below C Dm Am Uncloak the raven master Spread your wings and go
G Am C B G Am To arouse the beaten mind Like a raven child

Acordes

