

Ax and the Hatchetmen - Sunscreen

tom:
 Darling, I know you got a headache
 Because the sky is cloudy, you won't get a sunburn
 But you're still wearing sunscreen
 And I love that about you
 Love everything about you
 Oh-oh-oh
 No-no, I think about you always
 Sorry for callin'
 Thought I saw you in the hallway
 Lately, it's been snowing in the city
 This new girl in my bedroom
 She drives me up the wall
 And how are things back home?
 You know you can be honest?
 I really fucking miss you now that I'm alone
 No-no, I think about you always

Sorry for callin'
 Thought I saw you in the hallway
 No-no, and now you're coming back to haunt me
 Sorry for callin'
 Didn't walk to your apartment
 When it's cold and you're gone
 I'll see you only when the lights go down
 When it's cold and you're gone
 But I see you every time the lights go out
 Darling, oh-oh-oh
 Darling, oh-oh-oh
 Oh-no, I think about you always
 Sorry for callin'
 Thought I saw you in the hallway
 No-no, you know you're comin' back to haunt me
 Sorry for callin'
 And I'm sorry if it's too late
