

Ax and the Hatchetmen - Utah

tom:
Intro: D D A D A A
[Primeira Parte]
What if I went wandering
In a '68 Volkswagen van down to your doorstep
And I asked you to leave with me
Don't know how we'd get back, nor when [Segunda Parte]
Well I've got twenty-seven dollars
And a piece of shit car is what I said
Would you call me insane
Or would you pack a bag and take my hand
[Pré-Refrão]
We drove the van on down to Utah
Saw the plateaus etched into the land
We wrote the love song of a blonde boy
Who's lost himself in trying to be a man
[Refrão]
This lovely dream would be nothing without you in it
Take a step back, watch the sunset
Are you ready?
Who would care though, I know I won't 'cause you're so pretty
Don't think too much 'cause you'll think twice
Are you with me?
( D A )
[Terceira Parte]
What if we went driving
On a winding road that never ends up through the Rockies

And you looked up outside your seat And I caught you smiling at me, so sweet [Quarta Parte] One little van with just the two of us Traveling alone led by the trees Automobile filled with our love A dream that I bury under the sheets [Refrão] This lovely dream would be nothing without you in it Take a step back, watch the sunset Are you ready? Who would care though, I know I won't 'cause you're so pretty Don't think too much 'cause you'll think twice Are you with me now?
