                                                             I'm in love with a shooting star
[Verses]
                                                                  F
                                                             But she moves so fast
It's late and I'm awake
                                                             When she falls then
            Abm
Staring at the wall
                                                             I'll be waiting
         В
Open up my window
                                                             [Chorus]
My head floats out the door
                                                             Abm7
                                                                              Ebm
                                                             Gave my love to a shooting star
                                                                   Е
No one else around
                                                             But she moves so fast
And a shimmer takes my eye
                                                             That I can't keep up
      В
I lift my head
                                                            I'm chasing
I'm blinded by the sky
                                                             I'm in love with a shooting star
Feel my weight in front
                                                             But she moves so fast
Following the sound
                                                             When she falls then
                                                             I'll be waiting
It moves away so fast
I fall down to the ground
                                                             [Chorus]

I know there's more to come
                                                             Gave my love to a shooting star

                                                                   Е
Jump back to my feet
                                                             But she moves so fast

And I only see ahead of me
                                                             That I can't keep up
Chasing down the street (down the street)
                                                             I'm chasing

[Chorus]
                                                             But she moves so fast
                                                             When she falls then
Gave my love to a shooting star
                                                             I'll be waiting
But she moves so fast
