                        tom:
                    F

                             F
I've been building a house
            Bb                                    Dm
I filled it with all the things that I could live without
                 Bb
I've been thinking about
            F
How the walls come down
          Bb
And the ceiling crashed around my feet
          Dm
Broken on the ground
       Bb
Was nothing that really mattered to me
       F
Yeah, yeah
                                 Bb
And now I see that it's you I needed all along
                                   Dm
Maybe I'm too late and don't it always seem to go

I'll be breaking in two
               Bb
I don't know what I'd do
             F
If I didn't have you
             Bb
If I didn't have you
                     Dm
Thought I had nothing to lose

But that's not the truth
                     Bb
I don't know what I'd do
             F
If I didn't have you
                     F
Even as the words came out
        Bb
As they fall I wanna take them back
               Dm
I know I let you down
         Bb
And it's all that I've been thinking about
                     F
I get I messed it up
        Bb
Like I was far too close to see
                     Dm
Now I know that this
    Bb
Is all that really matters to me
        F
Yeah, yeah
                                 Bb
And now I see that it's you I needed all along
                                   Dm

Dm
I swear time's so slow now I
Bb
Face it all on my own and I
F                          C
Can't do this alone, if I
If I didn't
Dm
Say I'm sorry, love, 'cause I
Bb
Know I made you feel like I
F                              C
Don't need you, like I could survive

                   F
