

Barrett Bogan - Good Morning Jesus

```
Y'all know God's Word is alive
                Gb (forma dos acordes no tom de E )
                                                                 Jesus is the treasure
Capostraste na 2ª casa
                                                                No one else can satisfy
         D - A - Bm - A - G
                                                                 Yo I'm walkin' with my Maker
Good mornin' Jesus
                                                                 'Cause The Spirit dwells inside uh
Good mornin' Holy Spirit
                                                                Jesus is everything
Good mornin' Father God
                                                                 I wake up early
Good mornin'
                                                                 'Cause I wanna be with Him
Good mornin'
                                                                Right out the gate
                                                                Heck ya I'm tired
First thing in the mornin' when I step outside
                                                                But after I'm wired
Talkin' to my Jesus got me feelin' alright
                                                                Went walkin' with Jesus
I can hear Him talkin' to me in my spirit
                                                                 And now I feel great
Words so clear it's like I can hear it
                                                                Call it devotions
Got that fresh air in my lungs
                                                                 Ya that's on purpose
And I'm just thankful I'm Your son
                                                                 God knows your passions'll
Birds out flutterin' praises ringin'
                                                                Shape the whole day
Got me singin'
                                                                 I'm writtin' songs
Good mornin' Jesus
                                                                All the day long
Good mornin' Holy Spirit
                                                                 150 Psalms
Good mornin' Father God
                                                                 Enter with praise
Good mornin'
                                                                I don't go digital
Good mornin'
                                                                Til I know Him at all
                                                                 That would be criminal
Step outside standin' in the Sun
                                                                 Steal from my soul?
Praisin' my God ya they're 3 in 1
                                                                 I don't think so
I just wanna sing this song about You
                                                                But be on your guard bro
'Cause I don't wanna live with this life without You
                                                                 'Cause Satan be subliminal
Got that fresh air in my lungs
                                                                 No need to fear
And I'm just thankful I'm Your son
                                                                 'Cause Jesus is here
Birds out flutterin' praises ringin'
                                                                 Gotta resist and Satan must go
Got me singin'
                                                                Draw near to God
Good mornin' Jesus
                                                                He'll draw near to you
Good mornin' Holy Spirit
Good mornin' Father God
                                                                He loves you more than you know
Good mornin'
                                                                Uh
Good mornin'
                                                                Ayyy
                                                                Good mornin' Jesus
Wake up early mornin'
Wipe the crusties off my eyes
                                                                 Good mornin' Holy Spirit
                                                                          Bm
Bout to bust open the Bible
                                                                Good mornin' Father God
```

Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br

G Good mornin' Good mornin' Holy Spirit

Bm A

Good mornin' Father God Good mornin' D Sing Good mornin' Jesus Good mornin' Good mornin' Acordes © ukulele-chords.com

