E
Mary Jo, living alone
B
Drinking gin, the telly's on
A
She wants
(refrão 1)
E Gbm
The night to follow day and back again
Abm
She doesn't want to sleep
A E
Well who could blame her if she wants?
Gbm Abm
The night to follow day and back again
A
She doesn't want to sleep
Gbm A
Well who could blame her, if she sleeps?
Gbm A
Oh who could blame her, if she sleeps?
Gbm E
Oh who could blame her, if she's sleeping?
(verso 2)
E
Mary Jo, back with yourself
B A
For company, keep telling yourself you're young
E
And it'll happen soon
E
Mary Jo, no one can guess
B
What you've been through
A
Now you've got love to burn
(refrão)
E Gbm
It's someone else's turn to go through Hell
Abm A
And you can see them come from fifty yards

E
Yeah you can tell
Gbm Abm
It's someone else's turn to take a fall
A Gbm
And now you are the one who's strong enough to help them
A Gbm
The one who's strong enough to help them
A Gbm E
The one who's strong enough to help them all
( E Gbm Abm A ) (2x)
Dbm
Mary Jo, you're looking thin
B
You're reading a book, "The State I Am In"
A E
But oh, it doesn't help at all
Dbm
Cos what you want is a cigarette
B A
And a thespian with a caravanette in Hull
E Gbm
Your life is never dull in your dreams
Abm A E
A pity that it never seems to work the way you see it
Gbm Abm
Life is never dull in your head
A Gbm
A sorry tale of action and the men you left for
A Gbm
Women, and the men you left for
A Gbm E
Intrigue, and the men you left for dead
Gbm Abm
Life is never dull in your dreams
A E
A pity that it never works out, Mary
Gbm Abm
Life is never dull in your dreams
A Gbm
A sorry tale of action and the men you left for
A Gbm
Women, and the men you left for
A Gbm E
Intrigue, and the men you left for dead
E
The men you left for dead
