A puzzle, for the moment settle down to do it with him
You're happy cause your cosy and the rain comes rattling in

It tickles, and it's something that is very good for the skin
You're waiting for a baby, Baby, watch the idiot running

You're hanging from the balcony upon the riverboat glass
You're watching with your mouth wide open for the top of the class
She came on with the boys while you were stuck in various poses
If you were to remove your clothes d'you think the singer would notice?
