

Ben Harper - Blessed To Be A Witness

Tom: D

(com acordes na forma de C)
Capotraste na 2ª casa box marimba sounding thing).

Here is the guitar arrangement for the song. I would probably pluck or finger-pick the to keep the rhythm of the tongue drums.

btw - if you were wandering what corcovado is: it is the mountain in rio de janerio that massive statue of Jesus Christ is on.

Capo on 2nd fret

Verse One

F C
Corcovado parted the sky
G Am
And through the darkness on us he shined
F C
Crucified in stone
G Am
Still his blood is my own
F C
Glory behold all my eyes
G
Have seen, have seen

Chorus

F Am

I am blessed, I am blessed (x2)

G F C

I am blessed to be a witness

This is the riff they do on the tongue bell drums at the end of the chorus (play during bar in which they play C)

The chords are the same throughout the rest of the song, in the instrumental part just the verse's chord progression.

Heres the rest of the lyrics?.

Some have flown away
And can't be with us here today
Like the hills of my home
Some have crumbled and now are gone
Gather around for today
Won't come again
Won't come again
I am blessed to be a witness
So much sorrow and pain
But still I will not live in vain
Like a question never asked
Is wisdom wasted on the past
Only by the grace of God
Go I
Go I
I am blessed to be a witness?.
