

Benjamin Angeles - Lord I Come

```
[Refrão]
               tom:
                                                                  Eb F Ebm
                                                           I will worship You in Spirit and in truth

F Eb F Ebm Abm

I will worship You with my voice lifted high

F Eb F Ebm
Intro: Bb F Abm Eb F
F Bb F Abm
                                                            Standing here in Your presence is wonderful
Lord I come that I may see Your glory F Eb F
                                                            F Dbm Ebm Eb F
                                                            I will worship and exalt Your name forever
Lord I come that I may see Your face
F Bb F Abm
Lord I come that I may know Your greatness
                                                                 Bb F Abm
Eb F
To experience Your faithfulness
                                                            Lord I know transformation and life will arise
                                                            F Eb F
                                                            Lord I know joy and peace will abound F Bb F Abm
[Refrão]
     Eb F Ebm Abm
                                                            For I know in Your presence there's no compromise
I will worship You in Spirit and in truth
F Eb F Ebm Abm
                                                            So arise and shine in my life
I will worship You with my voice lifted high
F Eb F Ebm
                                                            [Refrão]
Standing here in Your presence is wonderful
                                                            F Eb F Ebm Abm
F Dbm Ebm E#m F Bb
                                                           I will worship You in Spirit and in truth

F Eb F Ebm Abm

I will worship You with my voice lifted high
I will worship and exalt Your name forever, Lord
[Versol
                                                            F Eb F Ebm
F Bb F Abm
                                                            Standing here in Your presence is wonderful
Lord I come that I may see Your glory

F Eb F
                                                            F Dbm Ebm Eb F
                                                            I will worship and exalt Your name forever
Lord I come that I may see Your face
                                                            Eb F Ebm
F Bb F Abm
Lord I come that I may know Your greatness
Eb F
                                                                       F Ebm
                                                            I will worship You in Spirit and in truth
F Eb F Ebm Abm
To experience Your faithfulness
                                                            I will worship You with my voice lifted high
F Eb F Ebm Abm
[Refrão]
F Eb F Ebm
                                                            I will worship You in Spirit and in truth

F Eb F Ebm Abm
                                                            I will worship and exalt Your name forever
I will worship You with my voice lifted high
F Eb F Ebm
                                                            Lord
Standing here in Your presence is wonderful F Dbm Ebm Eb F
                                                                  Eb F Ebm
I will worship and exalt Your name forever
                                                            I will worship You in Spirit and in truth
                                                            F Eb F Ebm Abm
                                                            I will worship You with my voice lifted high
F Eb F Ebm
    Bb F
                         Abm Abm
                                                            Standing here in Your presence is wonderful
                                                            F Dbm Ebm Eb F
I will worship and exalt Your name forever
Lord I know transformation and life will arise
Lord I know joy and peace will abound F Bb F Abm
                                                            Lord
For I know in Your presence there's no compromise
                                                            [Final] F Abm Eb F Bb
So arise and shine in my life
```

Acordes

