

Beth Porch - You Taught Me What Love Is

tom:

You never know how much I love you

And though you had to go

But I'm always thinking about you

If I could take your place

I do it a thousand times

Now there's a u-shaped hole in my life

And no

I won't be the same

You taught me to be brave

And although it wasn't for long

You told me what love is

No I won't be the same

You taught me to be brave

And although it wasn't for long

You taught me what love is

( G C )

For just less than a year

I never slept at all

And I'll never sleep again

If I could see you once more

You were too good for this world this life

You were hand-picked for paradise

And no

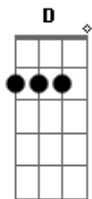

I won't be the same

You taught me to be brave

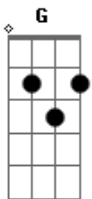

And although it wasn't for long

You never know how much I love you
