

Beyoncé - Shining

```
Tom: C
                                                                 Slow me down (down)
                                                                 Hold on (hold on)
                                                                 Don't (don't) try to (try to)
 (com acordes na forma de G )
Capostraste na 5º casa
                                                                 Slow me down
                                                                 Slow me down, yeah
Is, is (Yeah)
                                                                 [Verse 2: Beyoncé]
Is. isn't
                                                                 I drop the top out the coupe
Is, isn't good, is (Yeah)
                                                                 They tryna get at me, oooh
                                                                 They say I'm sweet just like D'UUUUUUS'
Is. is
We The Best Music!
                                                                 Yeah, yeah, yeah
Isn't good enough
                                                                 Say yeah, yeah, yeah, uh
I worked my whole life for this one
Isn't good enough (Yeah)
                                                                 Said everything I do, yeah, yeah, yeah
Another one
Isn't good enough (Yeah)
                                                                 Petty, petty, petty, I've been winnin' steady
Isn't good enough
DJ Khaled!
                                                                 Yoncé, Yoncé all up on your grill, lil' boy
                                                                 Poppin' off at the mouth, all year, boy
[Chorus: Beyoncé & DJ Khaled]
Shinin', shinin', shinin', yeah (shinin', yeah)
                                                                 Came out '97, winnin' 20 years, boy, oh
All of this winnin', I've been losin' my mind, yeah (losin' my
                                                                 All of this good, I don't feel bad for it, yeah
mind)
                                                                 When you see me smile, you can't be mad at it, yeah
Oh, hold on (hold on, baby)
                                                                 [Refrain: Beyoncé]
Don't (don't) try to (try to)
                                                                 Money don't make me happy (make me happy)
Slow me down (down)
                                                                 And a fella can't make me fancy (make me fancy)
Hold on (hold on)
                                                                 We smilin' for a whole 'nother reason (whole 'nother reason)
Don't (don't) try to (try to)
                                                                 It's all smiles through all four seasons
Slow me down
                                                                 [Chorus: Beyoncé & DJ Khaled]
                                                                 Shinin', shinin', shinin', shinin', yeah (shinin', yeah)
All of this winnin', I've been losin' my mind, yeah
Slow me down
[Verse 1: Beyoncé]
                                                                 (Losin' my mind, losin' my mind)
                                                                 Oh, hold on (hold on)
                                                                 Don't (don't) try to (try to)
Oooh and I done make 'em act a fool for it
                                                                 Slow me down (down)
You gon' need an address when I lose the boy (boy)
                                                                 Hold on (hold on)
                                                                 Don't (don't) try to (try to)
Ratchet, ratchet, ratchet, you a tool, lil' boy, oh
                                                                 Slow me down
                                                                 Slow me down, yeah
Mama say I'm trippin', daddy say I'm trippin'
                                                                 [Interlude: Beyoncé & Jay Z]
Mouth talkin' dirty but my lips so clean
                                                                 All of this winnin' (haha)
On my body like a bumper car sticker
                                                                 All of this winnin'
Bet it make you smile when you see that bitch pull up (pull
                                                                 All of this winnin'
[Refrain: Beyoncé]
                                                                 All of this winning
Money don't make me happy (make me happy)
                                                                 All of this winnin' (That dance)
And a fella can't make me fancy (make me fancy)
                                                                 All of this winnin' (That dance)
We smilin' for a whole 'nother reason (whole 'nother reason)
                                                                 All of this winnin'
It's all smiles through all four seasons
                                                                 [Bridge: Jay Z, Osunlade, & (DJ Khaled)]
[Chorus: Beyoncé & DJ Khaled]
                                                                 Ayy don't (don't) try to (try to) hold me (down) down
Shinin', shinin', shinin', shinin', yeah (shinin', yeah)
                                                                 Don't (don't) try to (try to) hold me down, ayy
All of this winnin', I've been losin' my mind, yeah (losin' my
                                                                 Just because you say things are gonna change
mind)
                                                                 Things are gonna change, things are gonna change
Oh, hold on (hold on)
                                                                 (Another one)
                                                                 Make 'em wait
Don't (don't) try to (try to)
```

Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br

[Verse 3: Jay Z] One ain't enough, I need two That night I mix the Ace with the D'US' Hit a triple-double in the Garden Held up my left wrist like I'm Harden (swish) Ran to the dealer, bought twin Mercedes The European trucks for the twin babies Don't let me have a son, I'm a fool, haha (ooooh) Send him to school in all my jewels, haha I want a boy and girl to fight for truth Whatever God give me, I'm cool I've been winnin' so long it's like alchemy I've been playin' cards with the house money 21 Grammys, I'm a savage nigga 21 Grammys, I'm a savage nigga I shouldn't even worry, backward niggas 12 solo albums, all Platinum, nigga I know you ain't out here talkin' numbers, right? I know you ain't out here talkin' summers, right? I know you ain't walkin' 'round talkin' down Sayin' boss shit when you a runner, right? Plain Patek, been had it Flooded when I got it from Khaled

Acordes

```
That was just a thank you for his last year
Next year he gon' have to buy a palace, shinin'
[Chorus: Beyoncé & DJ Khaled]
Shinin', shinin', shinin', yeah (shinin', yeah)
All of this winnin', I've been losin' my mind (losin' my mind)
Oh, hold on (hold on, baby)
Don't (don't) try to (try to)
Slow me down (down)
Hold on (hold on)
Don't (don't) try to (try to)
Slow me down
Slow me down, yeah
[Outro: Osunlade & Beyoncé]
Just because you say things are gonna change
Things are gonna change, things are gonna change
All of this winnin', slow me down
-ing something's wrong isn't good enough
Isn't good enough, isn't good enough
All of this winnin', yeah
Isn't good enough, isn't good enough
```