In this kind of world we live in
Em                  C          Bm        D
I'm just waiting for my turn to let it begin
Em                  C          Bm
D
Why would we wait so long for something we don't know if will ever happen?
Em                C                   Bm        D
I still sit right here every morning and wonder myself
Em                C
Why do I have to miss you?
        Bm              D
I don't want to lose you again

Em                        C
Don't be afraid of smart people
      Bm            D
Although everyone knows
          Em               C
That the dumb ones live much better
              Bm              D
'Cause they win the world with love
Em                  C        Bm                D
Why would we give our heart to someone we don't even know?
            Em            C
'Cause when you give the power of love
                Em              D
You also give the one that can mess you up
Em                      C
Why do I have to feel it all for once?
          Bm                    D
I don't wanna miss the moment by now
Em                C
If we don't own something
        Bm          D
It wasn't lack of trying
   Em              C          Bm  D
Maybe it wasn't' meant to be at all
                  Em  C
Maybe someday
