

Bia Marques - I Miss Your Touch

```
Meant to be Am7 A7
                          tom:
                                                           Can?t you see?
Intro: Dm7 G7 C7M Am7 A7
                                                             Dm7
                                                           I wake up in the morning
                                                             G7
I miss your touch
                                                           My bed is so cold
           G7
                                                               C7M
I miss your smile
                                                           Without you by my side
                                                           Am7 //
Without your hug
But I know we need to be apart for a while
                                                                  Dm7.
                                                           And I?m trying to do something nice
      Dm7
Oh baby, I
                                                                   G7
                                                           Just to make you smile
Feel like we are
                                                                C7M
                                                           So I took my guitar for a while
        C7M
Meant to be
                                                                 Am7
      Am7 A7
                                                           And I put love in this song
Can?t you see?
                                                                Dm7
                                                           Oh, darling
                                                                      G7
                                                           I hope you like it
I wake up in the morning
  G7
                                                                    C7M Am7 A7
My bed is so cold
                                                           I hope to see you soon
   C7M
Without you by my side
                                                                      Dm7
                                                           I miss your touch
   Am7
            A7
Without your hug
       Dm7.
                                                           I miss your smile
And I?m trying to do something nice
                                                                                        . Am7 A7
       G7
                                                           But I know we need to be apart for a while
Just to make you smile
     C7M
So I took my guitar for a while
                                                           Oh baby, I
     Am7
And I put love in this song
                                                           Feel like we are
    Dm7
                                                                   C7M
Oh, darling
                                                           meant to be
                                                                   Am7 A7
           G7
I hope you like it
                                                           Can?t you see?
        C7M Am7 A7
I hope to see you soon
                                                           I miss your touch
                                                                      G7
I miss your touch
                                                           I miss your smile
          G7
                                                                                         Am7 A7
I miss your smile
                                                           But I know we need to be apart for a while
                             . Am7 A7
                                                                 Dm7
                                                           Oh baby, I
But I know we need to be apart for a while
      Dm7
                                                                      G7
Oh baby, I
                                                           Feel like we are
                                                                   C7M
Feel like we are Meant to be
                                                                 Am7 A7
       C7M
                                                           Can?t you see?
```

Acordes

