

Billy Lockett - Burn It Down

Tom: C
Intro: F Am G

I'll burn it down, and build it up better
Sometimes it hurts to forget the past
And I'm tired of waiting for something to Happen with you
And I'm trying to save it, but deep down
There's nowhere to move

And I'm getting lost, soaked to the bones
With nothing to prove
I'm covered in hope, I'm feeling with doubt
That I'm not over you, no I'm not over you
So why burn it down, to build it up better
Sometimes it hurts to forget the past

I'll burn it down
And bring it back stronger
Sometimes it's screwed to forget the past
And I'm taking your words, my heart in the Palm of your hands
And I'm putting my trust in an entire
Half-empty glass
And I'm getting tired of making excuses
To find it won't last
I'm covered in hope, feeling with doubt
That I'm not the last, no I'm not the last
So why burn it down, build it up better
Sometimes it hurts to forget the past
Oh burn it down and bring it back stronger
Sometimes it's screwed to forget the past
