

B.J. Thomas - No Love at All

tom:

Intro: F C G F C

[Primeira Parte]

You read in the paper nearly every day

People breakin up and just walking away

From love and that wrong, that so wrong

A happy little home comes up for sale

Because two fools have tried and failed

To get along, and ya know that wrong

[Segunda Parte]

A man hurts a woman and woman hurts a man

When neither one of them will love and understand

And take it with a grain of salt

[Refrão]

Oh, now believe that

A little bit of love, is better than no love

Even a bad love is better than no love

And even a sad love is better than no love at all

Got to believe that

A little bit of love is better than no love

Even a bad love is better than no love

And any kind of love, is better than no love at all

Nah, nah, nah

[Terceira Parte]

No love at all is a poor old man

Standing on the corner with his hat in his hand

And no place to go, he's feelin low

No love at all is a child in the street

Dodgin traffic and begging to eat

On a tenement row and that so rough row to hoe

No love at all is troubled young girl

Standing on a bridge at the end of the world

And it's a pretty short fall, now people believe it

[Refrão]

A little bit of love is better than no love

Even a bad love is better than no love

And even the sad love is better than no love at all

Got to believe that

A little bit of love is better than no love

Even a bad love is better than no love

And any kind of love is better than no love at all

Nah, nah, nah Oh I got to believe

[Refrão]

A little bit of love is better than no love

Even a bad love is better than no love

And even the sad love is better than no love at all

Got to believe that

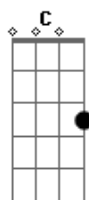

A little bit of love is better than no love

Even a bad love is better than no love

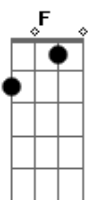

And any kind of love is better than no love at all
