

Blackbear - Me & Ur Ghost

tom:

Em

I'm not alone, it's just me and your ghost

And this cripplin' depression

I thought I learned?my?lesson

But I threw?out my phone

And I burned all?your clothes

And now I'm not alone

It's just me and your ghost

I got four red bottoms, up in flames at my place now

I burned three Chanel dresses, three words we don't say now

And it's hard not to drink when it's the one thing I think about

It's a lot of spiders in the attic, I don't mean to be dramatic

But I think it's kinda tragic who we magically became now

I'm not alone, it's just me and your ghost

And this cripplin' depression

I thought I learned?my?lesson

But I threw?out my phone

And I burned all?your clothes

And now I'm not alone

It's just me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Yeah, tell me what I'm s'posed to do with

All these pictures on my iPhone

Even all them videos only you and I know

You never cared about me, you just care about the likes, though

Every time you pop up, you should see my fuckin' eye roll

I can't even kick it with the homies that we both know

I can't even fuck with any places that we used to go

Now all I got is just the memories of us though

Burn it all down to the ground with your ghost

I'm not alone, it's just me and your ghost

And this cripplin' depression

I thought I learned?my?lesson

But I threw?out my phone

And I burned all?your clothes

And now I'm not alone

It's just me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

I wish I could take back summer nights

Erase all the vibes

Leave the memories out to dry

Delete forever, no archive

Take the words you said to me

Hold on to them intentionally

I know that eventually

I'ma set fire to the one thing I love the most

Burn it all to the ground with your ghost

I'm not alone, it's just me and your ghost

And this cripplin' depression

I thought I learned?my?lesson

But I threw?out my phone

And I burned all?your clothes

And now I'm not alone

It's just me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost

Me and your ghost
