

Bon Jovi - Keep The Faith

Intro: G F G G Bb C G
                                                               Faith! You know you're gonna live trough the rain
                                                             G Lord we've gotta keep the faith Mother mother tell your children that their time has just
                                                                            Bb
                                                                Faith! Dont you know it's never too late
I have suffered for my anger, there are wars that can't be won Right now we gotta keep the faith
                                                                Faith! Don't let your love turn to hate
Father father please believe me, I am laying down my guns
                                                               Lord we gotta keep the faith
                    Bb
I am broken like an arrow, forgive me, forgive your wayward
                                                                Keep the faith, keep the faith
                                                                Oh we got to keep the faith
(Everybody needs somebody to love) mother mother
                                                               Keep the faith, keep the faith
(Everybody needs somebody to hate) please believe me
                                                               Lord we got to keep the faith
                                                               Solo G Bb C G (3x)
G Bb C F G
Everybody's bitching 'cause they can't get enough, When it's hold on and there's no one to lean on (I've been walking in the footsteps
                                                               Of society's lies
                                                                I dont like what i see no more

                                                                Sometimes i wish i was blind
Faith! You know you're gonna live trough the rain
                                                                Sometimes i wait forever
                                                                To stand out in the rain
Lord we've gotta keep the faith
                                                               So no one sees me cryin'
                                                                Trying to wash away this pain)
                                                                (Mother father
Faith! Don't let your love turn to hate
                                                                There's things I've done I can't erase
Now we've gotta keep the faith
                                                                Every night we fall from grace
                                                               It's hard with the world in your face
Keep the faith, keep the faith Lord we've gotta keep the faith Trying to hold on, trying to hold on)

                                                                Faith! you know you're gonna live trough the rain
                                                                Lord we've gotta keep the faith
Tell me baby when I hurt you do you keep it all inside
Do you tell me ?all's forgiven?, just hide behind your pride
                                                                Faith! don't you let your love turn to hate Yeahyeah!
                                                                Right now we gotta keep the faith
                                                                Keep the faith
                    Rh
(Everybody needs somebody to love) mother mother
                                                                Keep the faith
(Everybody needs somebody to hate) please don't leave me
                                                                (Trying to hold on, trying to hold on, yeah!)
Everybody's bleeding 'cause the times are tough, well it's Faith! Keep the faith strong when there's no one to dream on
                                                                keep the faith
