                                                               Is getting wider
My mama told me
                                                               We need this bar to
                                                               Light the fire
When I was younger
You better speak up
                                                               Show me the promise
Don't be a number
                                                               Give me some dealing
        Bm
My daddy told me
                                                               There's too much hurting
When it was thunder
                                                               We need some healing
Go be the lighting
Don't run for cover
