 Shook the sleep from my eyes

F C G
 There's always something about leaving this city at night

C Em
 Waiting around for a second then the second was gone

F C G
 I would say it's about time I should be getting on

Am C
 And now I'm riding in the backseat of this old taxi,

C
 Heading through the tunnel down town

Am C
 Thinking about how crazy this life has been lately

F C
 And no one's gonna save me now

Am
 He said kid where you heading

C F

 At 17 I was ready to go on a gust of wind

F C G
 A lonely prisoner of my own soul and my innocence

 And the homecoming queens with the high school dreams of the early fall

F C G
 Lived out their glorious scenes and died at the shopping mall

Am C

And now I'm riding in the backseat of this old taxi,

F C
 Heading through the tunnel down town

Am C
 Thinking about how crazy this life has been lately

F C
 And no one's gonna save me now

Am
 He said kid where you heading

C F
 I said that's a big question he laughed and said you'll figure it out

Am C
 But I'm riding in the backseat in this old taxi

F C
 Heading through the tunnel down town

[Solo] Am G F C

C
 Some people can just say what they want

Em
 They just know

F C G
 Others fight to find out and can only say what they don't

C Em
 Some people waste their days away waiting on a reason to live.

F C G
 And some people get dressed and they go out looking for it

Am C
 And now I'm riding in the backseat of this old taxi,

F C
 Heading through the tunnel down town

Am C
 Thinking about how crazy this life has been lately

F C
 And no one's gonna save me now

Am C
 He says Kid all I know is you can stay or go

F C
 But you better move fast now pal

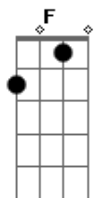

Am C
 So I'm riding the backseat of this old taxi

F C
 Heading through the tunnel down town

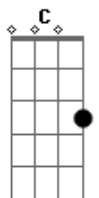

Am C
 Yeah I'm riding the backseat of this old taxi

F C
 Heading through the tunnel down south
