Vers:

Your class, your caste, your country, sect, your name or your tribe

There's people always dying trying to keep them alive

His body's decomposing in containers tonight

In an abandoned building where

A squatter's made a mural of a Mexican girl

With fifteen cans of spray paint in a chemical swirl

She's standing in the ashes at the end of the world

Four winds blowing through her hair

Omk:

But when great Satan's gone, the whore of Babylon

She just can't sustain the pressure where it's placed

She caves

Em, C, G, Am, G, Am, C

Vers:

The Bible's blind, the Torah's deaf, the Qur'an is mute

If you burn them all together you'd get close to the truth

Still they're pouring over sanskrit on the ivy league moons

While shadows lengthen in the sun

Cast on a school of meditation built to soften the times

And hold us at the center while the spiral unwinds

It's knocking over fences, crossing property lines

Four winds, cry until it comes

Omk:

And it's the song of man

Slouching towards Bethlehem

A heart just can't contain all of that empty space

It breaks, it breaks, (it breaks)

Em, C, Em, C, Em, C, D

Vers:

Well, I went back, I rent a Cadillac, a company jet

Like a newly orphaned refugee, retracing my steps

All the way to Cassadega to commune with the dead

They said, "You'd better look alive"

And I was off to old Dakota where a genocide sleeps

In the black hills, the bad lands, the calloused east

I buried my ballast, I made my peace

With four winds, levelling the pines

Omk:

But when great Satan's gone, the whore of Babylon

She just can't remain with all that outer space

She breaks, she breaks, she caves, she caves.
