

Bring Me The Horizon - What You Need

```
Intro: 2x: ( Em G C )
                                                               Don't come crawling back to me when you break down
         ( Em G Am )
                                                               You can find somebody else...
You're hypnotized, can't see the signs
I'd like to help you, but I think it's too late
                                                               So don't tell me what I can't see
Made up your mind and now you're blind
                                                               Cause we both know it's you, not me
I guess it's easier than making mistakes
                                                               You don't want this but it's what you need
                                                               And you'll see it when you believe
                                                                  Em
                                                               Don't tell me what I can't see
Don't ask me why then roll your eyes at the answer
You want to fight, but I won't bite at the page
                                                               Cause we both know it's you, not me
                                                                       Am
                                                               You don't want this but it's what you need
And I'ma try and change your eyes to the pain
                                                               And you'll see it when you believe
Cause I will tell you...
                                                               You'll see it, you'll see it
                                                                           G
So don't tell me what I can't see
                                                               You'll see it when you believe
                                                                                    C
                                                               You'll see it, you'll see it
Cause we both know it's you, not me

                                                               And you'll see it when you believe
And you'll see it when you believe
                                                               Em G C
                                                                         Em G Am

You'll see it, you'll see it
                                                               You make me want to slit my wrists and play in my own blood
                       Αm
You'll see it when you believe
                                                               Em G C Em G Am
                                                               Yeah, hell yeah
You'll see it, you'll see it
                                                               You make me want to kill myself just for the fucking fun
And you'll see it when you believe
                                                               Em G C Em G Am
                                                               Yeah, hell yeah
Give me a break cause I can't take
                                                               You make me want to slit my wrists and play in my own blood
                                                               Em G C Em G Am
                                                               Yeah, hell yeah
Another second, you're a fucking addict
                                                                                  Fm
I need the time to change your mind
                                                               You make me want to kill myself just for the fucking fun
How can I move you when you're stuck in your ways
                                                               (Em G C)
                                                               ( Em G Am )
                                                               (Em G C)
Don't ask me why then roll your eyes at the answer
                                                               ( Am )
You want to fight, but I don't bite on the bait
                                                               So don't tell me what I can't see
And I'ma to try change your eyes to the pain
                                                                                      G
                                                               Cause we both know it's you, not me
I'm just saying, no I'm just saying
                                                                        Em
                                                               You don't want this but it's what you need
                                                               And you'll see it when you believe
Don't come crawling back to me when you break down
                                                               And you'll see it when you believe
Cause you dug yourself into this hole all by yourself
                                                               ( Em )
