

Cadmium - Be With You

```
I just wanna be with you
Intro: Gbm Dbm7 E Bm7
                                                               I just wanna be with you, yeah
Hey pretty baby am I in your way
                                                               I just wanna be with you
'Cause you walked out so fast yesterday
                                                               Yeah I just wanna be with you
No I don't think you're here to stay
                                                               I just wanna be with you
No I don't think you're here to stay
                                                               I just wanna be with you, yeah
                      Dbm7
                                                                                     Dbm7
So tell me what you want, tell me how you want it
                                                               I just wanna be with you
           Bm7
Tell me all the reasons that you're running away
                                                               Yeah I just wanna be with you
                          Dbm7
I don't think you're here to stay
                                                               I just wanna dance all night
No I don't think you're here to stay, no, no, no
                                                               Forget my problems, I might go insane
                                                                                Dbm7
I just wanna be with you
                                                               I don't really give a damn what they say
I just wanna be with you, yeah
                                                               And now you know, now you know it
I just wanna be with you
                                                                 Gbm
                                                                             Dbm7
                                                               I feel like you're lying, trying to be real
Yeah I just wanna be with you
                                                                       Dbm7
                                                               But you seem so fake
                                                                             Dbm7
                                                                 Gbm
I just wanna be with you
                                                               I'm so over trying, trying to move on
I just wanna be with you, yeah
                                                               I just wanna be with you
I just wanna be with you
                                                               I just wanna be with you, yeah
Yeah I just wanna be with you
                                                               I just wanna be with you
I just wanna dance all night
                                                               Yeah I just wanna be with you
                  Bm7
Forget my problems, I might go insane
                Dbm7
                                                               I just wanna be with you
I don't really give a damn what they say
            Bm7
                                                               I just wanna be with you, yeah
And now you know, now you know it
                                                               I just wanna be with you
Hey little lady said you feel the same
                                                               Yeah I just wanna be with you
But I don't believe a word you say
                                                               I just wanna dance all night
'Cause I don't think you're here to stay
                                                               Forget my problems, I might go insane
No I don't think you're here to stay
                                                                                Dbm7
                                                               I don't really give a damn what they say
                      Dbm7
So tell me what you want, tell me how you want it
                                                               And now you know, now you know it
            Bm7
Tell me all the reasons that you're running away
                                                               I just wanna be with you
I don't think you're here to stay
                                                               I just wanna be with you, yeah
No I don't think you're here to stay, no, no, no
                                                               Gbm
                                                                                     Dbm7
                                                               I just wanna be with you
                      Dbm7
                                                               Yeah I just wanna be with you
