Fight for your lives, pay the price
                                                         I can feel there's no salvation
                                                         It is coming from everywhere, it's done
              G
                                                        Get it, load it, hand it!
What was only a speculation
                                                        No water, no food, just pain!

Now it is killing everyone, it burns
                                                        People.. Dying? Beside you!
