                                                              On the day that you were born the angels got together
                                                                  Cm

                                                              And decided to create a dream come true

Why do stars fall down from the sky...
                                          Every time you walk
