(capo 2ª casa)

(intro) C

(verse 1)

There's a yellow flower, by your bed;
Sadly droopin' it's perfumed head.

So you won't smell it;
I know what you'll miss.

(chorus 1)

And there's a hummingbird, a hummingbird,
A hummingbird, A hummingbird.
Oh there's a hummingbird, singing.

(verse 2)

There is the hat you made,
The clothes you wore;
Lying down on the cold dirty floor.

C F

The colours are fading;
They'll never shine a-gain.

(chorus 2)

And there's a hummingbird, a hummingbird,
A hummingbird, A hummingbird.
Oh there's a hummingbird, singing.

(verse 3)

Now the road is turning grey;
There's a shadow where you once lay.

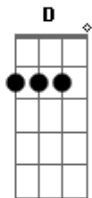

They'll find it to-morrow,
And think you went a-lone.

(chorus 3)

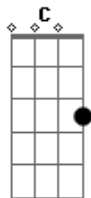

And there's a hummingbird, a hummingbird,
A hummingbird, A hummingbird.
Oh there's a hummingbird, crying.
