

Cat Stevens - Two Fine People

Tom: C

(intro)

(verse 1)

Am Now that I've passed your test,
 How can I prove to you, baby, I'll never let you down?
 If I led you a-round, I'm sorry, but I never meant to worry you, no !
 E Am Now that I've kissed your breast,
 How can I prove to you, baby, I'll never make you sad?
 If I ever had to believe your tears won't come back a-gain
 I love you-oo-oo, though the stars may fade,
 And the mountains turn into sand,
 I love you-oo-oo, till my body changes into an old man,
 A I love you-oo-oo, and the song that I sing is the only way that I can ex-plain

Am La, la, la, la, la, la,
 You know, I wish for you, baby, nothing but good times a-head,
 Anything that heaven can give you, I can give you instead
 Am La, la, la, la, la, la,
 How could I lie to you, baby, I'll never lead you a-round,
 I'll take care of everything you need, darling,
 Am Every little need'll be found

I love you-oo-oo, though the time may change,
 And snowmen sleep in the sea,
 D And I really only want you to want me
 A I love you-oo-oo, and the song that I sing
 is the only way that I can ex-plain
 Em Now that you've shown your heart,
 I'll be right with you, baby, I'll never leave you a-lone,
 Any-where you want me to be, honey,
 I'll be there , to have and to hold
 And , now that the clouds have rolled back,
 Hold on to me ,baby, we're going never to land,
 Flying on the power of love, flying on the power of love
 I love you-oo-oo, though time may fade,
 And mountains turn into sand,
 I love you-oo-oo, till the very same come back to land,
 A I love you-oo-oo, & the song that I sing
 is the only way that I can ex-plain!
