She's got her own, trajectory
She leaves my heart, 11 degrees

I see her eyes, reflecting me

I see her lifestyle, affecting me

And I go round, I lose a night
She tends to obfuscate, when it's black and white

It's like she puts love, to the back of her mind

Then rips it out again, and she's back at mine

```

She said
?Oxygen's overrated, I don't even need to breathe?

She's got a tank full of highs, and a mind that never sleeps

I loved you then, I love you now
So make me laugh, for an hour

Then rip me off, high as a cloud

And leave a taste, in my mouth
