                                                                Am
                                                                And then you will see
   ( Celine Dion e R. Kelly )
                                                                     Fm
                                                                The morning will come
                                                                                                      Em
                                                                           Am
                                                                And all of your days will be bright as the sun
No mountain is too high for you to climb
        F
                                  G
All you have to do is have some climbing faith, oh yeah
                                                                So all of your fears (all of your fears)
No river is too wide for you to make it across
                                                                Em
                                                                Just cast them on me
All you have to do is believe it when you pray
                                                                F .
                                                                                 G
                                                                How can I make you see
                            Em
And then you will see the morning will come
                                                                I'll be your cloud up in the sky
                                                                I'll be your shoulder when you cry
                     Fm
And everyday will be bright as the sun
                                                                I'll hear your voices when you call me
I am your angel
                  Em
All of your fears cast them on me
                                                                And when all hope is gone, I'm near
                                                                No matter how far you are, I'm near
                   G
I just want you to see
                                                                It makes no difference who you are
                                                                I am your angel
               C
                                                                I am your angel
I'll be your cloud up in the sky
              G
I'll be your shoulder when you cry
                                                                And when it's time to face the storm
                F
I'll hear your voices when you call me
                                                                I'll be right by your side
           G
I am your angel
                                                                Grace will keep us safe and warm
                                                                F G
                                                                And I know we will survive
And when all hope is gone, I'm near
No matter how far you are, I'm near
                                                                С
             F
                                                                And when it seems as if
It makes no difference who you are
                                                                    Am
                                                                Your end is drawing near (End is drawing near)
          G
I am your angel
                                                                Don't you dare give up the fight (Oh no)
I am your angel
                                                                Am
                                                                just Put your trust beyond the skys
I saw your teardrops, and I heard you cry
                                                                (SOBE 1
All you need is time
                                                                I'll be your cloud up in the sky
                                                                I'll be your shoulder when you cry
 G
Seek me and you shall find (You)
                                                               I'll hear your voices when you call me
                         G
                                                                I am your angel
You have everything and you're still lonely
                                                                And when all hope is gone, I'm near
                                                                No matter how far you are, I'm near
                                                                It makes no difference who you are
It don't have to be this way
                   G
                                                                I am your angel
Let me show you a better day
                                                               I am your angel
