

Century - Jane

```
Tom: Bb
                                                     the far away to touch
                                                      Bm Bm
                                                     and disappear
(forma dos acordes no tom de A )
Capostraste na 1ª casa
                                                      E7 Gm
Intro: D D7 Bm Gbm
                                                     into to love
                                                     Jane, I'm talking in your sleep
Jane, my heart is on the line
                                                      A E
                                                     You'll never know
Bm Bm7
You've grow too fast
                                                      Gbm Gbm
                                                     I told you so
      Bm
I lost the time
Jane, you're counting out your age
                                                     Jane A Bm Bm
I read the signs
                                                     I never really could
 Gbm
                                                      Gbm Gb
like a mental sign
                                                      be near
D Gbm Bm Bm E
                                                           Bm Bm7
Jane, impossible to spell
                                                     Oh, baby Jane,
Gbm
your name
                                                           Bm7
                                                     is it a passion or a play or Gbm
                                                         Bm Bm7
Jane, the far away wind to touch
                                                     Just a name?
Bm Bm
                                                           Bm7
And disappear
                                                     Nothing's impossible today
Bm D Gbm A
into the love
                                                     Lost in paradise
                                                           Bm
Jane, I'm talking in your sleep
                                                     I can't solve survive
A E
You'll never know
                                                        Db7
                                                     Only half of love
Gbm Gbm
I told you so,
                                                     ( D E A Db7 D F Gbm D E A Db7 D Bm Db7 )
                                                     Gbm
Jane
                                                     Jane
A Bm Bm
I never really could
                                                     My heart is on the line
Gbm Gb
                                                     Bm Bm7
be near (you)
                                                     Another day, another time
        Bm Bm7
Oh, baby Jane,
       Bm7
                                                     My prayers are only words
is it a passion or a play
                                                     In black and white
       Bm Bm7
or just a name?
                                                        Gbm
         Bm7
                                                     From left to right
Nothing's impossible today
                                                     D
                                                     Jane
      Gbm
                                                             Bm
Lost in paradise
                                                     I never really could be
      Bm
                                                      Gbm
I can't solve survive
                                                     Be near
  Db7
Only half of life
                                                           D
                                                     Wo, oh, Jane
(DEADb7 DEGbm DEADb7 DBm Db7)
                                                      Α
                                                                  Bm Bm
                                                     I guess you'll never know
Gbm
                                                      Gbm
Jane
                                                     My name
                                                     Jane... Oh, Oh Jane
```

Acordes

