

Charlie Puth - Mother

```
Next time that she sees me
 (forma dos acordes no tom de {\color{red}\mathsf{G}} )
                                                                 She gon' act like she don't know me
Capostraste na 2ª casa
Intro: E G A
                                                                 'Cause she knows all of the story
                                                                 Now your daddy wants to kill me (ah)
 He's such a nice boy, so well-mannered
                                                                 Next time that she sees me
 He's so much better than the last one you brought around
                                                                 She gon' act like she don't know me
 Please and thank you, everything matters
                                                                 'Cause she knows all of the story
 I'm gonna make sure that she knows I'm the best she's found
                                                                 Now your daddy wants to kill me (yeah)
The moment she walks out that door
                                                                 (If your mother only knew ooh)
I'm not pretending anymore
                                                                 The moment she walks out that door
If your mother knew all of the things that we do
                                                                 I'm not pretending anymore
(If your mother knew all the things we do)
                                                                  If your mother knew all of the things that we do
If your mother knew, she'd keep me so far from you
                                                                  (If your mother knew, all that we do)
(If your mother knew all the things we do)
                                                                 If your mother knew, she'd keep me so far from you
                                                                 (If your mother knew all the things we do)
Sneak out the window, pass over pillows
  I'll be waiting in the car right around the block
                                                                Next time that she sees me (hey)
  Back of the Benzo (back of the Benzo)
                                                                 She gon' act like she don't know me (does she know me?)
 More than a friend zone (more than a friend zone)
                                                                 'Cause she knows all of the story
 We've been hiding since the time they forgot to knock
                                                                 Now your daddy wants to kill me (yeah)
The moment she walks out that door (she walks out that door)
                                                                Next time that she sees me
I'm not pretending anymore
                                                                 She gon' act like she don't know me
                                                                 'Cause she knows all of the story
 If your mother knew all of the things that we do
                                                                 Now your daddy wants to kill me (yeah)
 (If your mother knew, all that we do)
                                                                 If your mother knew all of the things that we do
If your mother knew, she'd keep me so far from you
(If your mother knew all the things we do)
                                                                 If your mother knew all of the things that we do
                                                                 If your mother knew all of the things that we do
```

Acordes

