

Charly Coombes & The New Breed - Broken Glass

tom:

Intro: F Am G F

G Every guess that we take is just a shot in the dark, unholy desire

G And all the trouble we make is only making it harder, until we sing in the fire

G Oh please take a look around, baby please let your heart out

I'm all alone and I can't wake up if I'm sleeping it all

Oh please, please stay here, baby you see what it is you fear

Dadd9 But I'm alone and I cant wake up if I'm sleeping it all

Strain your eyes for daylight, out on a dark night, you let it out

Break into pieces, like broken glass

All the messes we make won't be swept away, they'll soak in your skin

And all the stages and fakes will get their own world one Day

Now

let the changes begin

Oh please will you follow me, I wouldn't leave you if you left me,

Dadd9 But I'm alone and I can't wake up if I'm sleeping it all

Strain your eyes for daylight out on a dark night, you let it out

Break into pieces, like broken glass

Getting drunk in the moonlight and caught in a catfight and getting ill

Break into pieces, like broken glass

[Solo]

Strain your eyes for daylight out on a dark night, you let it out

Break into pieces, like broken glass

Getting drunk in the moonlight and caught in a catfight and getting ill

Break into pieces, like broken glass
